People Tell the Story Of the School Year

FALL

The end of summer brings the beginning of the new school year at Oak Hills. Even before the actual opening of school, Highlanders are busy laying the ground-work to make 1967-68 the most successful year yet. The football team is out early on August mornings, building the stamina and cooperation a winning team needs. The band, majorettes, Oakettes, and cheerleaders practice long and hard, while Student Council members work inside assembling the student handbook, designed to introduce the freshmen to Oak Hills. As classes resume, returning Oak Hills students have the opportunity to bring to the classroom the same enthusiasm and interest.

1967 Highlander Gridmen

The Highlander football team brings to the 1967 season great team spirit and the long hours of practice which back it up. The success of the 8-1-1- season is marked by many outstanding performances on both an individual and team basis and several new records. With 89 points scored, Chuck Walroth, named this year's Most Valuable player, now holds the school record for most points scored in one season, as well as in rushing, total offense, pass interceptions, and punt returns. Co-captain Ken Hummel wins the team's "Iron Man" award, while Dave Hewitt is awarded "Best Lineman," Greg Huff is "Best Back," and Gerry Lane is named most improved. Chuck Walroth, Ken Hummel, and Ken Helton are members of the all-league team and Ken Helton is named to WCPO's first team and Chuck Walroth to the second. But every member of the team is a valuable asset as Oak Hills finishes another successful season.

From cowgirl and Indian to "Queen of the Continent", Homecoming 1968 brings unequaled enthusiasm and participation by every Highlander. Oak Hills' first "Pep Week" adds to the excitement of constructing class floats and voting for our seventh Homecoming queen. From Monday's red and black competition to Friday's sweatshirts, Highlanders exhibit a growing school spirit which climaxes in a 30-14 victory over Anderson. It is the seniors' night to shine as Dana Miller is crowned and the seniors' float, "Keep America Beautiful — Can the Redskins" takes first place honors. The evening is highlighted by Dana's reign as "Queen of the Continent" at the gala Homecoming dance.

It's Fall, and School Activities Are in

In chilly autumn days school activities come to exciting and eventful life. Classroom routine is established and the real business of education begun. Students retain the enthusiasm of the beginning of the year and apply it to many special activities. School organizations, from Honor Society to Pep Club or Dramatics, are well under way to a successful year's program. But among all these activities, a quiet conversation often highlights the rush between classes. Fall is an exciting season, preview of even better things to come.

Undefeated in home meets for the fourth straight year, they further are runnerup in the Regional competitions. Individual runners Steve Sauer, Gary Kurtz, and Greg Martz place second, third, and fourth in the county respectively. With the expert coaching of Mr. Robert Yung, the team once more carry long hours of practice stretching back through the summer months to competition, and emerge as the victors, Highlanders to be proud of.

The Tartan

Sixteen times a year Oak Hills students produce The Tartan, a record of people and events as they occur. With the guidance of advisor, Mr. Eugene Wagner, the staff works long and hard to make The Tartan a newspaper every Highlander can be proud of. In order to learn more about journalism, as well as to demonstrate the facility they already have, seven Tartan editors and staff attended the convention of the Journalism Association of Ohio Schools at Ohio State University, where Oak Hills journalists were awarded four second place and two third place honors in writing competitions. The workshop sponsored by the Miami Valley Journalism Association at Miami University in the spring is another opportunity to polish journalistic skills, which from September to June keep Oak Hills students informed about what's going on at their school.

Tartan ideas begin with advisor Mr. Eugene Wagner and editor Kim Burrell.

Winter

Winter 1968 style means a hard-won basketball championship, the tension of exam week, snowballs, saddle shoes, and Bonnie and Clyde. It is a season of extremes in weather and mood. School activities expand to include swimming and wrestling competition, as well as the weekly basketball games. But sports do not monopolize winter events. In mid-January the drama department offers an evening of one-act plays and the semi-formal Sweetheart dance highlights February. Exams present a different type of involvement on the part of Oak Hills students. The long hours of study and tension are not soon forgotten but the spread of the "saddle shoe conspiracy" offers some lighter moments. It is a busy season in an eventful year.

Christmas Strikes!

Christmas is heralded at Oak Hills by the strains of organ music from the lobby and the colorful decoration of the front windows, extending seasons' greetings to the entire community. In 1967 this always special time of year was enhanced by a unique program of dual assemblies presented by the music department, with selections ranging from traditional carols to Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus." Away from school, a quiet moment under the mistletoe, the fun of decorating the house, or a carolling trip to friends and neighbors, all are part of the spirit of Christmas at Oak Hills.

Contentment!

An important part of the social life of any Oak Hills' lad or lassie is the fun of a weekend date with that particular gal or guy. Activities range from simple and casual — a basketball game or even a quiet evening at home — to the special thrill of dancing to the music of the New Lime at a King Football Dance. But whatever they do, wherever they go, the Highlander boy and girl make a winning pair.

Cheerleaders Build Highlander Spirit

Encouraging school spirit and pep is the job of the three Oak Hills cheerleading squads. The seven varsity cheerleaders, distinctive in their new red jackets, have a prominent place at all varsity football and basketball games and pep rallies. The reserves' responsibility is cheering at the reserve games, while the freshman cheerleaders direct their energies to the freshman sports teams. The cheerleaders are an important group at Oak Hills, helping to forge the spirit and purpose which makes a successful school, as well as a successful team.

Holders of the Hamilton County Suburban League title, this year's basketball team is the most successful in the history of Oak Hills. With the leadership of co-captains Chuck Walroth and Bob Fricker, the team captures its first tournament victory with the defeat of Anderson at the Xavier Fieldhouse. Junior Bob Seikman is high scorer, with an average of twenty points per game and is named to the WCPO All-Star team. But every team member contributes to make 1968 a memorable year in the history of basketball at Oak Hills.

Oak Hills Band

Sounds Off

Whether marching at football games or performing in concert, the Oak Hills Band offers those Highlanders with an interest in instrumental music a chance to polish their skill under the direction of Mr. Thomas Tate and Mr. Richard Davis. This year the band represents Oak Hills well as it marches in the Harvest Home, Veteran's Day, and St. Patrick's Day parades, as well as presenting spectacular half-time shows at all football games. The Pep Band and Dance Band are formed for special functions during the year, helping to keep the Oak Hills band in its always prominent position in school life.

Dave and his tuba give it all they have.

Band practice begins in August.

Majorettes Introduce Band

Smartly dressed majorettes lead the Oak Hills band and entertain spectators at football and basketball games. Besides participating in marching band events, the majorettes perform in The Best of Oak Hills. To attain excellence, the majorettes begin practice during the summer and meet every week throughout the year. Head Majorette Linda Schmidt represents Oak Hills this year in the Shrine Circus Queen competition and does most of the choreography for the girls.

Headed by co-captains Diane Schroeder and Meg Grierson, the Oakettes have a prominent position at many school functions. Marching with the band at football games and parades throughout the year, they proudly represent Oak Hills. Their routines often comprise the half-time entertainment at basketball games and their dancing is always a highlight of The Best of Oak Hills. After try-outs, which are held in May, the girls practice during the summer and continue regular sessions throughout the year to maintain their excellence and fine reputation.

F.T.A., designed primarily for students wishing to become teachers, is concerned with the field of education. Programs include speakers on hearing and speech therapy, and student teaching, besides the Christmas party and spring awards picnic. Junior and Senior members are permitted to observe classroom techniques in the district elementary schools. A tour of the University of Kentucky campus rounds out spring activities. F.T.A. is also active in district affairs with Brenda Mullins of Oak Hills serving as District Secretary.

Caledonian Business Staff

With the leadership of Mr. Nicolas Wolf and business manager Linda Jeffers, this busy staff handles many problems involved in the production of the Caledonian. Staff members are busy early in the year selling the ads which help make financing the yearbook possible, as well as managing the sale of the book to students. This year the staff sponsors a highly successful patron contest, awarding the enthusiastic students of the winning homeroom free yearbooks.

Wrestlers Finish 2nd in County 3rd in District

Wrestling, one of the newer sports at Oak Hills, finishes another successful season this year with a 13-3 varsity record and a 9-3 reserve record. This places the varsity team from Oak Hills second in the county and third in the district. Dick Loewenstine holds a district championship in his class, and is joined by Highlanders Mike Fiorini and Mike May in claiming league championship, marking 1968 the best season yet for the mighty matmen of Oak Hills.

Meeting weekly, Student Council functions as a valuable link between students and administration. Taking a place of leadership in many areas, Council plans the Homecoming festivities which highlight the fall, as well as organizing the greatly successful "Bundle Days," collecting clothing for Appalachian children. "Jerry's Day" is an innovation in 1968. Working as waitresses, cooks, or dishwashers for one of two days in April, Council members are able to earn money for their organization. In many ways, Council members set an example of leadership and service at Oak Hills.

"Hearts and Harmony" is the theme chosen by the sophomore class for this year's Sweetheart Dance. In an appropriately decorated surrounding, couples dance to the music of the George Kasper Orchestra and vote for their favorite among the candidates for the Sweetheart King and Queen. Last year's royal couple, Dana Miller and Fred Hess, pass their crowns to juniors Bob Seikman and Judy Martz at the climax of the evening, making the Sweetheart Dance, as always, one of the most special events of the year at Oak Hills.

A.F.S.

AFS, American Field Service, is designed to encourage activities involving foreign students and Oak Hills, this year introducing Tony Martinez to our school and city. Money making projects and the annual "Pledge Day" are aimed at financing a foreign student at Oak Hills again next year, and, if possible, sending a Highlander abroad.

AFS officers include Debbie Douglas (pres.), Mary Steinkoenig (V. pres.), and Pat Taeuber (sec.).

Other leaders are Barb Behrens (treas.) and Miss Slater (adv.).

Pat Taeuber spent the summer in Germany as the American daughter to two families.

Tony boosts true Highlander spirit.

Tony meets another AFS student at a game.

Tony Martinez

Tony Martinez arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Young, his American "parents," in August to begin a year in the United States. Already graduated from Jorge Juan High School at home, Tony plans to attend the University of Valencia to study architecture on his return. Though communication at first posed a problem, Tony contributes much to life at Oak Hills.

French Club is led by Kay Schmithorst (pres.), Mary Steinkoenig (V. pres.), Debbie Douglas (sec.), and Barb Bedard (treas.).

French Club

French Club, guided by Mr. Southgate, meets once or twice a month in room 49 for various programs and projects of interest to French students. French Club sponsors a canteen and a bakesale and enjoys a banquet of French foods, prepared by the students themselves.

Spanish Club

Spanish decorations in the display window and thanks for funds from Unicef are evidence of Spanish Club activities. Interested Spanish students meet together once a month for films or panel discussions with advisor Mr. Del Pilar and Miss Bierman.

Spanish Club Officers Are: Mary Grierson (pres.), Nancy Berry (sec.), and Sally Blankenship (treas.).

German Club is led by: Mark Brandley (pres.), Klaus Schoening (V. pres.), Jill Lampe (sec.), and Wayne Brabender (treas.).

German Club

After a late start the German Club begins with an informal soccer club and during the Christmas holidays learns carols in preparation for a visit to local hospitals and old folks' homes. More ambitious plans include a "Maidfest" at Hueston Woods and a German scene in the display window.

Latin Club

Active throughout the year, Latin Club celebrates various Roman holidays and produces the "Latineir," a monthly newspaper completely in Latin. The State Junior Classical League Convention is a big event in Latin Club's year, this year entering as their project a scale model of the Pantheon.

Jan Bischof (pres.), Lorna Moehle (V. pres.), Debbie Fox and Mike Bruestle (sec's.), and Ginny Weimar (treas.) head Latin Club.

Dave and Vicki enjoy "their" dance.

King Basketball '68

March eighth finds Dave Herche reigning as "King Basketball" over the year's only turnabout affair. Couples have the opportunity to dance to the music of The Gentlemen and vote for their favorite among the four senior basketball players vying for the crown.

King BB candidates are: Tom Chatham, Dave Herche, Bob Fricker, and missing, Chuck Walroth. Their dates are Diane Shriver, Vicki Moreland, Diane Mattis.

Advised by Mr. Irving Hellman, Pep Club is one of the largest and most active organizations at Oak Hills. To help encourage support of the school's athletic teams, Pep Club plans all pep rallies and sponsors busses to the "away" football and basketball games. An innovation, this year's "Spring Fashion Fling," is designed to introduce the spring events at Oak Hills, as well as highlight "Dress Right Week." by featuring fashions from Max Gentry.

Pep Club

Pep Club leaders are: Barb Borgmann (sec.), Phyllis Rose (hist.), Mr. Hellman (adv.), Pam Day (tres.), Laurie Wolfe (pres.), Sandi Lucas (1st V. pres.), and Melody Lowther (2nd V. pres.).

Spring

With spring comes an explosion of activity at Oak Hills. Track meets and baseball games mark the return to outdoor sports, while the choir and band concert exhibits the achievements of these two groups. For many the Prom, a magic trip back to the days of King Arthur's Round Table and "Camelot," is the climax of much work and the fulfillment of many expectations. In early May the Best of Oak Hills offers talented students a chance to perform, this year in a production with a gay circus theme. For seniors spring brings the culmination of four years of hard work and the special majesty of the graduation ceremony. But, for all, spring is a time of the year filled with excitement and activity, the fulfillment of long-held dreams and a new look to the future.

COE Club

Girls who take part in the cooperative program comprise the "COE," Cooperative Office Education, Club. Although only in its first year, the club is an award-winning one, making a fine showing at the Regional Spring Leadership Conference in March.

COE is led by Linda Schorsch (pres.), Debbie Dorsey (V. pres.), Pat Tooley (sec.), Joan Bernard (treas.), and Barb Wagner (hist.).

Ken learns from on the job training.

DCT officers are Ken Hummel (pres.), Don Zehnder (V. pres.), Doug Hoover (sec.), and Russ Miller (treas.)

VICOH

"DCT'ers" are new to Oak Hills this year, the first Highlanders to participate in the Diversified Cooperative Training Program, combining study with parttime employment. The boys form the Vocational and Industrial Club of Oak Hills, sponsoring displays, tours, and a carwash.

Debbie enters the business world.

Thespians and Thalian Join Talents

Thespian president Barb Smith.

The Thespian and Thalian organizations of Oak Hills combine to form the Dramatics Club, offering any Highlander interested in stagecraft an opportunity to polish his skill. Whether participating as actor, stage crew member, or in the business end of a dramatic presentation, Dramatics Club members help make Peter Pan, an evening of three one-act plays, and the comedy Charley's Aunt memorable events. They bring honor to Oak Hills through their showing in speech and play competitions throughout Ohio.

Four Choirs Bolster Music Department

The vocal music department at Oak Hills expands again this year to include four separate performing groups, all under the direction of Mr. Robert Schierloh. The newly-formed Concert Choir and Freshman Mixed Glee Club join the Mixed Chorus and Girl's Glee Club for Christmas and Spring Concerts.

Mixed chorus performs during the spring music concert.

Bridge Club is led by pres. Jo Kouach and adv. Mr. Jennings.

Chess club officers are: Jim Holtkamp, pres., Dennis Rose, V.-pres., and Jerry Krailler, sec.-tres. Adv. is Mr. Rosenfeld.

Chess Club

As a member of the Greater Cincinnati Chess League, the Oak Hills Chess Club participates in bi-weekly five man chess meets with other high school teams. Often ranking high in the league standings, the team also frequently competes in invitational tournaments apart from regular league play and sponsors its own individual tournament each spring.

Bridge Club

Another organization new to Oak Hills this year is aimed at Highlanders interested in the exciting game of bridge. Members meet regularly with sponsor Mr. Lloyd Jennings to practice and increase their playing skills and techniques. Although the membership is small, Bridge Club offers its members valuable experience in their special field of interest.

Art Club

The special decorations which appear in the lobby and windows of Oak Hills every Christmas are evidence of the activities of Art Club, one of the special interest organizations at Oak Hills. These Highlanders also sponsor a canteen and an art sale to provide a scholarship for an Oak Hills senior planning to make a career in art.

Tartan Day '68

On April 5 the halls of Oak Hills are altered by a combination of whimsy and hard work to illustrate some phase of the Highlander life or heritage. These decorations, this year paced by the senior's winning "Chapter 1968," are only part of Tartan Day, whose traditional purpose has been to build school spirit. Loyal lads and lassies wear the plaid proudly, and, as always, the day is climaxed with the evening's election' of a very special "Lad and Lassie."

"Is anybody home?"

Lassie candidates are: Cindy Brigham, Laurie Wolfe, Shari McCollister, Linda Schmidt, Diane Schroeder, and Kim Burress. Lad candidates are Bob Garrison, George Engel, Doug Davenport, Rich Drewes, Bob Fricker, and Fred Hess.

1967 Track

The 1967 team of Highlander thinclads finished their season with a good record, including a third place in the County Relays and a fourth in the County Meet. With the leadership of 1967's Outstanding Trackman, Tom Williams, runner in the 220 yard hurdles, the Highlanders racked up victories over such teams as Finneytown and Mt. Healthy, aided by other senior racers Bruce Nead and Ron Lanham.

The 1968 Highlander track team adds another fine season to the Oak Hills records. A first place in the county relays and victories over Colerain and Xavier are examples of the winning ways of this year's trackmen. New school records are set by pole vaulter Gordon Roberts and by Dave Bryan, Roger Bernard, Bob Fricker, and Fred Hess in the 440 yard relays. Other outstanding runners include Ken Schmidthorst, Gary Kurtz, and Bill Nead, but every member of the team exhibits the enthusiasm and energy necessary to end the season with such a record.

GAA '68 Season

The girls in G.A.A. are kept busy during the year participating in the eleven different sports which are offered. In order to earn her yearly award, a girl must get credit in at least six sports and earn twenty extra points by attendance, working at a G.A.A. sponsored dance or canteen, selling candy or programs at the varsity games, playing on one of the honor teams which compete with other schools, or in one of the many other activities of this energetic organization.

"Maiestas Romae"

Highlanders and their dates spend an unforgettable evening as the gym is transformed into a Roman garden for the 1967 Prom. Decorations in green, gold, and white recall the majesty of Rome, "Maiestas Romae," and the Jimmy James Orchestra provides a musical accompaniment for dancing and enjoying the special magic of a prom.

King Arthur's Court in "Camelot"

The magic atmosphere of the legendary Camelot provides the perfect background for an unforgettable evening as the Class of 1969 presents the Junior-Senior Prom. Heraldic shields, battle flags, and costumed "knights and ladies" contribute to the authentic fairy tale flavor, while the George Kasper Orchestra, occupying a revolving "Round Table," affords the musical accompaniment. Camelot and the 1968 Prom are "never to be forgot" by the many Highlanders who share the memory of this enchanted evening.

1968 Team Is Runner-up

The 1968 tennis team emerged much improved, with a record to be proud of. With a core of seniors, Dan Swart, Bob Grauvogel, Dave Herche, and Bob Garrison, Coach John Muth achieved many successes in this highly individualized sport. Best doubles record is claimed by Dan Swart and Scott Hunter, a junior new to the team this year. Most valuable player is Bob Garrison, holder of the best singles record. Although tennis is not a sport well known to most Highlanders, these boys work hard to bring back a good record for their school.

1968 Team Captures First Trophy

Golf plays an important part in the spring sports picture at Oak Hills. The 1967 team placed fourth in the district with a 7-7 overall record, 4-3 in league matches. Junior Greg Morris paced the team, holding the record low score for eighteen holes, 79. In the district tournament he took fourth medalist honors.

The 1968 golf team shows their skill and experience in challenging matches with Colerain, Western Hills, and Wyoming. Their overall record stands as 11-2 in dual meets, giving them the league championship in the western division. This year's low score is the 77 shot by Howie Lowe in the district tournament.

Honor Society

Character, Leadership, Scholarship, and Service are the four qualities required of a member of National Honor Society. Members participate not only in this organization, accumulating points through tutoring, selling candy to raise money for a scholarship, and other projects, but are also leaders in many school activities. In order to be inducted into National Honor Society, members must have a cumulative "B" average.

Honor Society officers are: George Engel, pres., Barb Behrens, sec., Debbie Douglas, V.-pres., and Rich Drewes, tres. Executive comm. includes Pat Taeuber, Linda Schmidt, Mary Steinkoenig, and Doug Davenport.

Circus Brings Show —

Stoppers to OH"

Clowns and calliope music mean the circus has arrived, and this year its destination is the Oak Hills stage, as the 1968 edition of "The Best of Oak Hills" gets underway with the traditional circus parade. Comical, dancing "Monkees," the varsity cheerleaders in disguise, are only a part of the laughter and thrills of this "Greatest Show on Earth." High-stepping Oakettes, the majorettes and their guys, and Joy Robertson on the flying trapeze perform on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of the first week in May. Jo Lynne Warfield and Sally Blankenship, and Bruce Adler are among those who show the more thoughtful side of the circus. A circus is always a very special, magical event, and the 1968 "Best" truly succeeded in evoking the circus atmosphere.

Red Cross Club is led by pres. Bill Freppon, V.-pres. Donna Grey, sec. Claudia Fischer, and advs. Miss Smith and Mrs. Jenkins.

Red Cross and Health Careers Clubs

Health Careers Club officers are: Mary Ann Hass, pres., Jill Newman, V. pres., Kay Kitz, sec., Mary Jo Walsh, tres., and Mrs. Roberts, adv.

The Red Cross and Health Careers Clubs of Oak Hills are related organizations, each with an accent on service. An interested student from each homeroom is elected to serve as a member of the Red Cross organization, which sponsors an annual collection for this worthy cause, and also sponsors a canteen to aid in its work. Highlanders whose interest lies in the medical field form the Health Careers Club, who this year are selling candles and note paper to finance the scholarship they award annually.

Audio-Visual Aids

Members of the Audio Visual Aids Club work closely with many teachers, as well as with their advisor, Mr. Bernard Hiles, in helping to co-ordinate the audio-visual program at Oak Hills. All are trained in the use of the movie projectors and other teaching aids, serving as valuable assistants in many classrooms.

AV officers are: Dave Steele, pres., Rick Huddleston, v.-pres., Jill Newman and Mary Ann Haas, secs., and Mr. Hiles, adv.

Boys Bowling Team

The Oak Hills Boys' Bowling League competes in separate teams against each other weekly. Trophies go to the top teams and for high games, as well as patches from the Youth Bowling Association. This year's winning team consists of Bruce Adler, Mike Genet, and Butch Knepp. Bruce Adler also holds the award for high average, while Frank Lowe ranks with high series.

335 Graduate in Outside Ceremonies

Graduation. It means something different, but always very special, to everyone. For the Oak Hills graduating class of 1968 it means commencement exercises held outdoors on a beautiful June night and 335 Highlanders receiving their diplomas one by one. Accepting your diploma you realize that not only has something ended, but you are beginning life anew. Now you meet the challenges and receive the rewards as adults. The four years spent at Oak Hills, nearly a quarter of your life, is over, but never forgotten.

Mixed emotions are felt at commencement.

The Lookout House provides after graduation fun.

Faces of '68

SENIORS

The class of 1968 approaches graduation with unequalled achievement in every phase of school life. Its winning ways are evidenced by a record four consecutive first-place awards in the Tartan Day Hall Competition and first-place floats for the 1966 and 1967 Homecomings. The 1967 Prom is another milestone in the history of the class of '68. Months of planning and hard work climaxed in "Maiestas Romae," a memorable and beautiful evening. Members of the class always enrich Oak Hills in other ways, participating in its champion sports teams, and as leaders in any and every school event or organization. In many ways, throughout their four years at Oak Hills, seniors have contributed to school spirit and enthusiasm. But more than this, seniors have developed the valuable skills which enable them to face with confidence the prospects of the future.

Gregg Kramer — President

Diane Mattis — Vice President

Dana Miller — Secretary

Laurie Wolfe — Treasurer

In addition to leading their class, this year's senior officers are also active in other areas of Highlander life. President, Gregg Kramer, is on the varsity football squad; Vice President, Diane Mattis, is varsity cheerleading captain; Secretary, Dana Miller, is a varsity majorette; and Treasurer, Laurie Wolfe, is Pep Club president and also in Concert Choir.

Faculty and Administration

The 1968 School Board

School Board members (left to right): Messrs. Middlekamp, Ruehrwein (vice pres.), Hillman (president), Winkler, and Morris.

Mr. Richard W. Herron
Superintendent

Mr. Sweeder Heads Staff of 97

Bearing the brunt of the problems inherent in administering a high school the size of Oak Hills is its principal, Mr. Willard Sweeder.

Mr. Sweeder has been involved in the education of the students of this community for many years, serving as a math teacher at Bridgetown School after his graduation from Taylor High School and Dennison University. After World War II he returned to Bridgetown, eventually to become its principal, in the meantime earning his Master's degree in school administration from the University of Cincinnati. From Bridgetown he came to Oak Hills to become its principal in the school year 1966 — 1967.

Mr. Scherer and Mr. Witsken Share Administrative Responsibilities

With special responsibility in the guidance of student council and student publications, as well as a less obvious role in textbook and curriculum planning, Mr. Richard Scherer (pictured right) is quite familiar to most Highlanders. Serving his third year as first assistant principal, Mr. Scherer holds B.A., B.S., and M.Ed. degrees from the University of Cincinnati and has previously taught math courses here at Oak Hills.

Attendance and discipline are two important factors in the smooth operation of a large modern high school and these are the weighty responsibility of the second assistant principal, Mr. Richard Witsken (pictured left). After earning his B.S. and M.Ed. degrees from Xavier University, Mr. Witsken taught social studies at Oak Hills for several years, but returned as assistant principal last year only after serving in a similar capacity at Delhi School.

Working behind the scenes to keep Oak Hills running smoothly are the three busy office secretaries, the cafeteria staff, and the school nurse. Mrs. Melba Hicks, Mrs. Erlyne Schubert, and Mrs. Kathryn Yaney co-ordinate the continual flow of information and the problems which arise in the course of the day at Oak Hills. Always poised and calm, they are familiar faces to every Highlander. The cafeteria staff serves a more specialized, but equally important function, planning and preparing the noon meal under the direction of Mr. Catherine Maisch. Staffing the school clinic is Mrs. Danna Clark, a valuable asset to Oak Hills. Not pictured is the Custodial Staff headed by Mr. Leroy Gresham.

Oak Hills Faculty for 1967-68

Ninety-two energetic and industrious teachers carry the greatest immediate responsibility for the education of the 1925 students at Oak Hills. In their classroom duties, as well as in advisory capacities in many school organizations, the Oak Hills faculty proves itself possessed of the creativity, vitality, and dedication necessary to meet the challenge of educating tomorrow's citizens.

This year sees the innovation of a department system with eight teachers assuming the role of department head. Mr. Eugene Wagner heads up the English Department, Mr. Irving Hellman the Social Studies Department, Mr. Paul Geiser the Math Department, Mrs. Elizabeth Day the Business Department, Mr. Bernard Southgate the Language Department, Mr. Eugene Poynter the Science Department, Mr. Norval Humphrey the Industrial Arts Department, and Mr. Louis Koenig the Art Department.

underclass

Class of 1969

The climax of class activities comes this year for the class of 1969 with the planning and production of the Junior-Senior Prom. During the football season, enthusiastic juniors man the concession stand, helping to build the cooperation, as well as the treasury, necessary for a magnificent Prom. This year's theme, "Camelot," calls for elaborate decorations and hard work.

Beyond class activities, juniors enter eagerly into school activities, beginning to assume the leadership which will fall to them as they become next year's senior class. From the varsity teams and cheerleaders to the last member of the cheering section, juniors are a strong support for school spirit, and all facets of school life.

Class of 1970

The class of 1970 carries through with the zeal and energy they have displayed in the past. This great spirit brings them many honors, beginning this year with a homecoming float, "Tippecanoe and the Redskins Too," second only to the seniors'. The members of the sophomore class focus their attention on the 1968 Sweetheart Dance. The decorations, including the elaborate king and queen's platform, enlarge and complement the theme.

Achieving the status of sophomores, the class of '70 enters fully into the activities of Oak Hills. Individually they take part in clubs and teams. But not only do they participate, but are a valuable support with their attendance and cheers.

The class of 1970 adds much to the year 1967-68, contributing to the school spirit and achievement which will carry them through their high school career with great success.

Class of 1971

This year Oak Hills welcomes the class of '71. After the delay in the opening of school, this year's freshman class starts busily to work. Early in the year a candy sale is profitable, beginning freshman activities as a class, and foreshadowing the cooperation and enthusiasm they will need as they work together in the next four years.

In October, Freshmen work hard to build their homecoming float, and are a valuable asset, cheering at football games and outdoor pep rallies, as well as supporting their own freshman teams.

The class of '71, already entering into school activities with interest and enthusiasm, shows promise for excellence in their four years at Oak Hills.
